No School on Halloween

I believe that we should have off for Halloween. Halloween is like every other holiday that we have off for, we must take time to prepare for it by decorating and buying lots of candy. It would let people celebrate the holiday longer if we had off on this day. Halloween is a holiday that we should have off school for, since we don't get to celebrate it that much since we are in school.

The first reason I believe this is because Halloween takes lots of preparation for like parties and things like that. Along with this, people don't have much time to even have a party because school takes up most of the day already. If we didn't have to go to school on this day, then we would have more time to go to parties.

My second reason is because it takes lots of effort to prepare for this day. The least that school could do is give us off and let us enjoy the holiday. We have off for other random holidays like Columbus Day, but not Halloween. Just think for a second, we must buy candy, decorate, and plan parties. Then when the day comes along, we only get to enjoy a few hours of it since most of the day is gone already.

My final reason is that we don't really do that much productive things in school on Halloween, so there is no point in even being at school. All we do mostly is watch movies and do fun activities. I mean I don't have a problem with the fun stuff we do at school on this day, but still not having to go to school would be a better option, and I know most people would agree with that.

I believe that we should not go to school on Halloween. With the time that it takes to prepare for the holiday and not having much time to celebrate, this would be a better option. We get off for other little random holidays, but not Halloween. I believe that most people would want this approach, to have off school for this holiday, and it would let people enjoy the holiday much more.
