

Brady Kondek

Mr. Breslin

2nd Block/English

4 May 2020

Read a Poem

Poem Name: Kubla Khan

Poem Author: Samuel Taylor Coleridge

Excerpt from Poem:

In Xanadu did Kubla Khan

A stately pleasure-dome decree:

Where Alph, the sacred river, ran

Through caverns measureless to man

Down to a sunless sea.

Response to Poem:

This poem to me has a good flow and rhythm to it. I read it and I flow right through reading the words. The funny thing is, I heard this poem in a movie I saw last night. At the time, I had no clue this was actually a real poem as I thought it was something they made up for the movie.

This poem was featured in a movie with the same title as the second word, "Xanadu".